

Rudplan offers clients the benefit of integrating environmental management at every stage of the project life: conceptual design, feasibility studies, basic and detailed engineering and construction. Rudplan extends its engineering and construction management expertise to a wide range of environmental related projects.

Rudplan expertise in environmental management covers the major industrial sectors related to mining, and mineral beneficiation.

The following environmental management services are offered:

- Environmental Impact Assessment studies for mining and mineral processing facilities in compliance with local regulations;
- Environmental Impact Assessment studies performed according to guidelines of major financial aid institutions such as the World Bank and the International Finance Corporation;
- Review of environmental legislation and regulations for requirements in environmental permitting;
- Technical assistance to the industrial sector for the preparation of sound Environmental Management Systems;
- Consulting in waste minimization and recycling.

Expertise:

- Environmental Impact Assessment
- Environmental Management System
- Environmental Permitting
- Environmental Audits
- Air Quality Management
- Closure Plan and Site Restoration